Time, Space & Knowledge: A New Vision of Reality (Nyingma Psychology Series) Tarthang Tulku

The original book in the TSK series includes 35 exercises that encourage a new style of inquiry. An integrated, natural intelligence, unfragmented into reason, emotions, sensations, and intuition, is our greatest treasure, and our key to progress. Exploring our realm of experience with such an intelligence can be an inspiring undertaking. If, for instance, such an open intelligence is brought into play in reading this book, even the reading and thinking process itself can become a visionary path. Through integrating a theoretical approach with one which is more experiential, we can actually begin to change our lives.
