A Masterpiece: The Museum Cartoon Collection American Alliance of Museums

This special anniversary collection, published on the occasion of AAM's centennial, features cartoons from The New Yorker from 1930 to 2005. The selections enclosed depict the silent humors of the museum experience—the funny ways in which we use museums as a space to interact and react.

AAM is pleased to publish this volume in thanks to all of our friends, colleagues, and supporters: the thousands of dedicated professionals who work in museums of every type and size all across the globe, the funders and policy makers, and of course the millions of visitors who grace our museums every year.

Shirley Eagle:

As a student exactly feel bored to reading. If their teacher inquired them to go to the library as well as to make summary for some book, they are complained. Just very little students that has reading's heart and soul or real their passion. They just do what the professor want, like asked to the library. They go to there but nothing reading really. Any students feel that reading through is not important, boring along with can't see colorful photographs on there. Yeah, it is being complicated. Book is very important for you. As we know that on this time, many ways to get whatever we would like. Likewise word says, ways to reach Chinese's country. Therefore this A Masterpiece: The Museum Cartoon Collection can make you sense more interested to read.
